Eligibility

Membership of the Association is open to all residents, landowners, interested persons, groups, agencies and organisations who have identified an interest in NRM of the region and in promoting the Objects. ("Region" means the land area comprising the southern flowing catchments from the Deep River catchment west of Walpole to Cape Arid in Western Australia, including the Shire of Esperance, and the internally drained areas immediately to the north of these catchments.) A map can be viewed at <http://southcoastnrm.com.au/about/our-region>

Membership is open to:

- Individuals with an active interest in the management of natural resources in the South Coast NRM region.
- Incorporated associations with an active interest in natural resource management.
- Commonwealth, State or Local Government agencies with primary responsibility for natural resource management and sustainable use of resources, by way of statutory responsibility, function or regulatory capacity.
- Corporations or other legal entities with an interest in and responsibilities for sustainable use of natural resources.

Benefits

By becoming a full member of South Coast NRM you will gain:

- Access to NRM updates and information in our region, including subscription to the South Coast NRM e-newsletter.
- Increased networking opportunities.
- The opportunity to contribute to NRM decisions within the region, including the eligibility to vote at the South Coast NRM Annual General Meeting.
- Latest NRM updates and opportunities from the Australian Government and the Government of Western Australia.

Once your membership application has been received, it will be considered for approval at the next South Coast NRM Board of Management meeting. Thereafter you will be advised if your application has been successful and an invoice sent for your annual subscription. Once payment has been received, your membership will begin from that date. To streamline accounting practices and easy monitoring of membership numbers, a renewal form will be sent in January of each year, regardless of your joining date.

South Coast Natural Resource Management Inc. reserves the right to change membership fees, subject to approval by members at its Annual General Meeting.
